

DON'T FORGET TO CONSUME OUR OTHER
PAMPHLETS:

THE BARE BULL
AND BABE

LIVING IN APARTMENT 2

from the Institute for Recurrent Progress

Welcome to Apartment 2

The Institute for Recurrent Progress has temporarily acquired Apartment 2 for the dual purposes of artificial dissemination and aspirational self-correction.

[REDACTED], Grand Admiral of [REDACTED] (pictured above), is providing us with his services in the role of local inn keeper: he should be obeyed feverishly at all times.

While in Apartment 2, you should allocate an unending sequence of moments to cognitively-attend-to and then spiritually-absorb the ornaments and encounters that have been painstakingly arrayed by the Institute for your ceaseless pleasure.

As your body recurrently traverses the halls and rooms of this space, you should consider:

"Am I all that I am, or am I not?"

"Am I finding what is missing at every turn?"

"Should I become a member of the Institute and, if so, how?"

Prolonged exposure to our message will convince you of the value inherent in Institute membership and inform you of the vital behaviors that will indicate your interest to us.

For example, should you wish to bring any of the items in Apartment 2 into your collection for extended enrichment and to progress in your membership at the Institute, we invite you to defer to our Charitable Product Transactions pamphlet.

Additional supplementary reading materials will provide instructions on how to comport yourself in the presence of The Bare Bull and Babe, as well as how to use the installed Intercontinental Communications Terminal to speak with a high-ranking Institute representative.

Please devote your time here to investigative exploration and remember: in a certain sense, we need you to survive as much as you need us.
